

Consent form for zine artwork participation and release

Expressions of our health: Perspectives of First Nations, Inuit and Métis children and youth

Thank you for being part of the zine artwork contest! Please read the information below and let us know if you're okay with how your (or your child's) art and information will be used. The contest closes at 6 PM PST on July 28, 2025, and winners will be drawn on August 8, 2025.

Full name of child/youth artist: _____

Child/youth artist age: _____ Community: _____

Art labeling information (Artist(s) name(s), medium, size or duration, year created):

To give credit to the artist, we'll include only the first name, age, and community in the zine.

- If you'd rather we don't include this info, please write "No" here: _____

This zine and contest aim to support and celebrate Indigenous health. I declare that the submission has been created by an artist who identifies as (check one).

- First Nations _____ Inuit _____ Métis _____

As the artist, or the parent/guardian of the artist, I give permission for the submitted artwork to be shared:

- in a printed zine, and
- on the National Collaborating Centre for Indigenous Health's (NCCIH) website.

As the artist, or the parent/guardian of the artist, I certify that generative AI (artificial intelligence) has not been used in the creation of this artwork.

Legal guardian name (if artist under 18 years of age): _____

Contact email: _____ Phone: _____

Signature (or that of legal guardian if applicable): _____ Date: _____

Here's what else you should know:

The contest closes at 6 PM PST on July 28, 2025, and winners will be drawn on August 8, 2025.

- The artist keeps full rights to their artwork. You can use it however you like, now and in the future.
- If you ever want your artwork removed from the zine, please send an email request to NCCIH Research and Operations Manager, Donna Atkinson at donna.atkinson@unbc.ca. It will take some time to fully stop sharing it.
- Everyone who sends in an eligible submission will get a printed copy of the zine with their artwork inside.
- Artists may submit more than one eligible submission; however each artist will only be entered once into the prize draw
- We'll collect your mailing address only so we can send you the zine and/or a prize if you win.
- FAQ and submission guideline documents are available on the NCCIH website.

Mailing address:

Street address or PO box: _____

Unit #: _____ City/town: _____ Province: _____ Postal code: _____

National Collaborating Centre
for Indigenous Health

birchbark collaborative

The National Collaborating Centre for Indigenous Health (NCCIH)

Phone: (250) 960-5250

Email: nccih@unbc.ca

Web: nccih.ca

Birchbark Collaborative

Email: kim@birchbarkcollaborative.ca

Web: birchbarkcollaborative.ca

© 2025 The National Collaborating Centre for Indigenous Health (NCCIH), Birchbark Collaborative, and TD Bank of Canada. This project was funded by the NCCIH and made possible through a financial contribution from TB Bank of Canada and the Public Health Agency of Canada (PHAC). The views expressed herein do not necessarily represent the views of TD or PHAC.